markilux 990 | The Slim One Small, but impressive! You will be surprised how much technological sophistication there is in this 125mm flat cassette. The compact construction with the U-shaped front profile in which the folding arms and awning cover disappear, and an impressive angle of pitch of up to 70 degrees when ceiling mounted make this awning best suited for smaller patios and balconies. Thanks to these advantages you can easily spend many hours relaxing in the shade.
